

What you should not do

You should not:

- miss any appointments to do with your sentence; or
- behave in an aggressive, racist or other unacceptable way.

What happens if you break the rules?

If you break the rules without good reason you will receive a warning or be taken back to court. You are only allowed one warning in any 12-month period.

If you are taken back to court the court could:

- make you do more Requirements;
- make you do different Requirements;
- make this Requirement or other Requirements you are already doing harder; or
- send you to prison.

The court cannot just give you a warning or a fine.

The leaflet about your Community Order or Suspended Sentence Order will tell you more about what will happen if you do not stick to the rules.

It is very important that you work hard to complete your sentence.

Other information

If you need help or advice about anything to do with your sentence, you can always talk to your responsible officer.

We keep information about you in our records. It is kept safely and securely. If you want to find out about seeing this information please ask your responsible officer.

Local information:

If you have a complaint about the Probation Service please talk to your responsible officer who will try to help. If you are not satisfied you can ask to talk to the unit manager. If you are still not satisfied, ask for the leaflet called 'Making a Complaint'.

Activity Requirement

About your sentence

The court has sentenced you to a Community Order or a Suspended Sentence Order. There is a separate leaflet on each of these sentences.

This leaflet tells you about the Activity Requirement that the court has decided you must do as part of your sentence. You might also be given other leaflets to help explain any other Requirement or Requirements the court has decided you must do.

About the Activity Requirement

The court has decided that you must do an Activity Requirement. This means that you will have to do something, or maybe a number of things, to help you tackle your offending or to make amends for your offending.

This might mean:

- learning how to manage your money better;
- spending time with the victim of your crime;
- improving your skills to help you get a job; or
- looking for a suitable place to live.

What you have to do will depend on your individual circumstances and what the court thinks you should do.

The person responsible for your sentence (your 'responsible officer') will discuss the details of your Activity Requirement with you.

What your responsible officer will do

They will:

- explain your sentence to you;
- talk to you about the plan for your sentence;
- make clear where you need to be and what time you need to be there;
- make clear what will happen if you do not do what you are asked to do as part of your sentence;
- make arrangements for you to be taken back to court if you do not co-operate or comply with your Order;
- review your progress and work with you to help you complete your sentence successfully; and
- treat you fairly.

What you should do

You should:

- listen carefully to what your responsible officer says and do what they ask you to do;
- turn up to any appointments to do with your sentence on time;
- make sure you turn up in a fit state to take part;
- show respect to probation staff and other people you meet during your sentence;
- tell your responsible officer straight away if you plan to change your address or phone number;
- tell your responsible officer straight away if you are unable to keep an appointment;
- tell them if you are having any other problems with completing your sentence;
- carry out any other instructions you may be given as part of this Requirement;
- let your responsible officer visit you at home if they need to; and
- stay out of trouble.

If you miss an appointment you should get in touch with your responsible officer as soon as possible and tell them why.

If there is a good reason for not being able to keep an appointment you should provide your responsible officer with evidence. This might be a doctor's note or a letter from your employer, for example.
